

Customs Tax and Economic Reform in Egypt

Zeinab Tawfik El Sayed Ahmed Elewa

Abstract

Shown interest in this research study to clarify the dimensions of the customs tax, and the extent of their contribution to the economic reform programs in Egypt, where the impact of customs duties in the field of foreign trade, given their association with movement of trade exchange of goods, particularly in developing countries, including Egypt. In view of its duty to play effective role in achieving the goals of economic development and to correct the imbalance in the balance of payments during the early stages of development.

Journal of Contemporary Egypt, Egyptian Society of Political Economy, Statistics and Legislation 2009, January