

Foreign Investors in the Egyptian Stock Exchange

Zeinab Tawfik El Sayed Ahmed Elewa

Abstract

This includes the search several directions including: trends of economic reform in Egypt and the Egyptian Stock Exchange and the role of economic importance with respect to securities, the most important factors affecting the stability of the stock market such as: political turmoil, and scientific discoveries, and speculation, and inflation. As well as recognition-oriented foreign investment to the Egyptian market, whether foreign investment, direct or indirect foreign investment in securities, and Olney increased in the years following the introduction of electronic trading, and by foreign investors and is shown in the analysis of the movement transactions in the stock market buying and selling through years from 1997 the date of establishment of Misr Company for Clearing, Settlement until 2005. And which proved their presence across most economic sectors, which represents the main determinant of dealing bourse's ups and downs.

Journal of Contemporary Egypt, Egyptian Society of Political Economy, Statistics and Legislation 2006, January